The Covid Conspiracy + The Conspiracy Theorist

A conspiracy is simply two or more people or organizations working in tandem to perpetrate a nefarious crime or fraud...or conceal or cover up activities that, if exposed, would harm certain people and organizations.

In my recent article, I attempted to summarize the views of my Brownstone colleague Debbie Lerman, who I believe is correct when she opines that the main conspiracy of "Covid" was to get most of the world population inoculated with a new unsafe mRNA non-vaccine.

Debbie also argues that elements of the Department of Defense and the "Military Industrial and Intelligence Complex" took control of the important elements of the Covid response.

In my opinion, Debbie uses credible and salient evidence to support these views.

Writers who've performed copious research should be commended for trying to "set the record straight."

The Two Most Important Conspiracies

I also tried to highlight another vital element of this conspiracy - the ramp-up of the Censorship Industrial Complex and the propaganda programs that created the mass fear that made most citizens eager to comply with the "guidance," lockdowns, and vaccines promoted by the world's establishment classes.

This "conspiracy," which worked spectacularly, made millions of people afraid to challenge false or dubious narratives.

The example of the "control" or "placebo" nation of Sweden should have shown the world that the conspiracy to create mass fear was bogus, nonsensical, and irrational.

Of course, the example of Sweden didn't have this effect - but this was only because the intense and unprecedented censorship and propaganda programs were so effective.

In my view, these censorship and propaganda programs were another massive and coordinated conspiracy.

Absent these coordinated programs, the goal of the "conspirators" - getting as many people inoculated with a new mRNA vaccine as possible - probably wouldn't have been possible.

The coordination required to make this happen suggests not just a conspiracy, but a massive conspiracy involving hundreds of agencies and organizations.

It wasn't just a handful of people and organizations who were executing psychological operations to manipulate public opinion … virtually every important organization in the world became a willing accomplice in advancing or supporting these false and harmful programs.

The conclusion that disturbs me more than anything else is the level of coordination that's required to produce programs that produce such horrible results.

In my opinion the "keys to the operation" were the conspiracies that spawned the irrational fear propaganda and the muffling of intelligent and potentially influential dissent.

I'll Admit This

I will acknowledge that when someone comes to believe "conspiracy theories" are plausible, this person is probably going to see more and more conspiracies.

For example, one of my ironclad mantras is that "all important organizations have become completely captured."

In my view, nefarious programs were constructed from foundations of false premises - predicates that wouldn't be possible if enough agencies or organizations included independent thinkers who didn't always go along with the herd, or support the authorized narratives.

As a bonafide conspiracy theorist, I've come to believe the world's most important conspiracies would be impossible to pull off absent a prior conspiracy to staff these organizations with clone thinkers who will never question or challenge the official narrative.

That is, it seems statistically impossible that 100 percent of MSM editors would all reach the exact same conclusion about the “safety” of a rushed “vaccine” or the imperative of locking down society.

Per my view, the people who hire and fire journalists clearly conspired to hire only people who will advance and support the most important authorized narratives.

Expressed differently, if no conspiracy to protect bogus narratives existed, 10 to 25 percent of newsrooms would presumably be staffed with journalists willing to question claims of powerful bureaucrats.

And the Narrative Defenders Went on the Offensive

Furthermore, these “gatekeepers of the news” routinely attack “disinformation spreaders” at alternative media organizations.

One also can’t help but notice that the MSM journalists and editors attack writers who produce independent articles at sites like Brownstone Institute or Substack.

Perhaps the most common charge deployed to muffle the influence of these writers is that they are trafficking in conspiracy theories.

Indeed, yet another conspiracy would seem to be the orchestrated and coordinated effort to shut down or discredit as many “conspiracy” sites as possible.

If this is not the goal of the Censorship Industrial Complex, what is the real goal of NewsGuard, Media Matters, the Trusted News Initiative, the Stanford Virality Project, and the 15,000-plus “content moderators” employed by giant social media and tech companies like Facebook?

(The above paragraph lists five organizations - with thousands of employees and significant budgets - that were created for one reason - to suppress unauthorized dissent. Question: Did more than two people or organizations work together to achieve this specific goal? If they did, doesn't this meet the definition of a conspiracy?)

Or, to play Devil's Advocate, are these organizations trying to help organizations like Brownstone reach more people?

According to the propaganda, these organizations are trying to "protect" the masses from dangerous "conspiracy" organizations…organizations that are actually trying to help writers like myself reach more people.

For the past five years, conspirators told the public that only certain news organizations report the real truth and, thus, can be "trusted" by the public.

Honesty compels one to note that these groups won the "Covid debate" in a rout, which simply proves that never-ceasing propaganda and never-retreating censorship…work.

Some Citizens Didn't Swallow the Propaganda

This is not to say millions of news consumers haven't reached the conclusion tha*t every* important Covid narrative was a dubious or brazen lie.

When I write that every important organization has become captured, this claim rarely if ever generates significant pushback in Reader Comments' sections.

To me, these observations support my view that conspiracies are now ubiquitous.

If everything important our trusted officials and experts tell us is predicated on lies - and policies predicated on lies still happen - almost by logic, conspiracies must be massive and coordinated.

I now believe practically every bad or harmful outcome that happens in the world must be the result of successful conspiracies.

The most ingenious or diabolical conspiracy is the conspiracy to label organizations or writers who are searching for the real truth as “conspiracy theorists.”

My New Year’s Resolution

My New Year’s resolution is to do my part to ensure the population of conspiracy theorists continues to grow.

In my opinion, anyone who can do anything to expedite the demise of the Censorship organizations and MSM propaganda organs is doing God’s Work.

The reason Brownstone writers might now be considered conspiracy theorists is that these writers possess a much-needed talent for identifying so many unexposed conspiracies.

It’s not hard to see why those who don’t want to be exposed as criminal conspirators are threatened by the work and mission of genuine truth-seeking organizations.
